OKLAHOMA VETERINARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
2006 AWARDS CRITERIA

The OVMA Awards Program is one of the most important membership services offered by your association. Your participation in the program by nominating your peers only strengthens it.

Companion Animal, Equine and Food Animal Practitioner of the Year Award The practitioner of the Year Awards honor practitioners who are currently active in the field of veterinary medicine, member of the OVMA, and whose outstanding contributions have aided in elevating standards, refining techniques and improving methods of practice to provide for more skillful treatment in their specialty area.

Young Veterinarian of the Year Award This award honors a practitioner who has graduated from veterinary school within the past 10 years and is active in his/her profession, community and OVMA.

The Practitioner-to-Faculty Award The Practitioner-to-Faculty Award recognizes service contributions by College of Veterinary Medicine faculty to Oklahoma veterinarians. The nominee must be employed by OSU College of Vet Medicine for more than 1 year and must provide exemplary and outstanding consultation and advice/referral service to Oklahoma veterinarians.

Distinguished Service Award The Distinguished Service Award honors a veterinarian or non-veterinarian who has made significant contributions to veterinary medicine. Areas of consideration include, but are not limited to: diagnostic lab, military, regulatory, industrial or zoological.

Corporate Sales Associate Award This award is given to the sales representative who showed outstanding support of veterinary medicine in Oklahoma during the current year.
